OVERVIEW

Aros is a fascinating display of LED lighting that will create a talking point in any modern room setting. This range of pendants and ceiling lights is composed with a collection of rings featuring highly polished chrome metal framework and frosted acrylic diffusers which house the integral LED 3000K LED's. The rings are chaotically positioned to create intriguing shapes and styles while still providing an extensive lumen output, the largest pendant projecting an amazing 4420lm. With the ease of technological functions increasing in every area of the market, the ability to remote control LED lighting is becoming a must and that is just what each Aros item offers.
